Committees

What Are The Lowell Makes Committees?

Lowell Makes has a committee structure that helps to make sure everything that needs to happen to keep the doors open can occur in a timely and well organized manner. The Committees are made up of volunteer members of Lowell Makes and consist of one person who serves as Chairperson and a selection of other voting and advisory members who make up the rest of the committee. Each Committee has a set of responsibilities and it is their job to make sure those tasks are completed.

Lowell Makes Committees

ExCom: The Executive Committee

ExCom is the highest level of leadership at Lowell Makes under the Board of Directors. It is made up of Lowell Makes' Officers (President, Vice President, Treasurer, and Secretary) and the Chairs of the Committees. It is responsible for large-scale planning, day to day operations, and the organization of Lowell Makes and the other Committees.

MemCom: Membership Committee

MemCom is responsible for the Open House and the New Member Experience. Basically, MemCom is there to ease the transition from potential member to new member, and from new member to community member. We host community events and answer questions and offer resources for new and existing members.

EdCom: Education Committee

EdCom is responsible for all classes and events at LM. They not only help to plan educational opportunities, but also schedule the physical locations for those classes to take place. They wrangle instructors, payments, signups, materials and everything involved with running classes at LM.

Ops: Operations Committee

Operations keeps LM running in a very real way. They handle all the maintenance on the building and equipment and make sure that things are safe and functional. They are broken up into two branches: Main Operations and IT.

SpaceCom: Space Committee

The Space Committee handles physical space at LM. They determine the arrangement of the physical spaces to make them as functional as possible. They also handle the renting of all rentable spaces. Lockers, shelves, desks, offices and SLAs are all run through Space Com.

MktgComm: Marketing Committee

MktgComm is responsible for all things external communication. From our website to Facebook and Instagram, or the newsletter, and even business cards, posters, brochures, pamphlets plus so much more! If you found out about LM

Marketing to thank for that!

FinCom: Financial Committee
