

Ceramics

The LM Ceramics Studio offers those new to clay and experienced potters an opportunity to develop and hone skills in a friendly, supportive space that is filled with natural light and good creative energy. On a regular basis, we offer Intro to Clay classes making functional pieces with an emphasis on having fun and learning. The studio is well equipped to meet the needs of our new and upcoming artists!

Storage

Members not in a class must purchase a shelf (or 1/2 shelf) for storage of their projects, or take them home. 1/2 shelf is $5 per month. We also have the option for members to show their projects and offer them for sale in the Pottery Shop.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Where do I keep projects that I'm working on?

A: You can rent a storage shelf ($5/mo for a half shelf, $10/mo for a whole shelf) in the ceramics studio. This is the best place to store projects, clay, personal tools or other ceramics-related items. You are not allowed to store things elsewhere in the shop.

Q: How often do you do firings?

A: We run firings whenever there is a need. We typically run at least one a week and often more.

Checkout Info

Using this shop requires a Checkout performed by a Captain or dedicated member. Checked out members have access to all tools and equipment and materials – except clay – which must be purchased from the studio. The cost of clay covers all glazes and firings.

For those new to clay, taking a class is an easy way to get checked out. Otherwise the member just needs some experience in clay to be checked out by one of the shop captains. Click here for more information about how to get checked out.
